THIRTY-NINTH YEAR, No. 47

Highway Conference, Bay St. Louis, Tuesday, December 2

HARD-SURFACING OF O. S. T. TO BEGIN AT EARLY DATE IS ANNOUNCED

Meeting With Mississippi Highway Commissioners to Be Held In Bay St. Louis, Tuesday, December 2, Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce Announces.

An important announcement comes from the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce by George R. Rea, president, to the effect the Mississippi Highway Commission members will be in Bay St. Louis December 2, in the interest of the proposed matter of hard-surfacing the Old Spanish Trail present gravel road from the Louisiana State line into and including Bay St. Louis.

This announcement came by telephone to George R. Rea from J. F. Thames, commissioner for this district, who said the matter of hard-surfacing would be the paramount thought, then the proposed short cut. It is said the short-cut will take some time to build, approximately nine miles of roadway to be constructed from the present Ripley's free bridge to Logtown or Pearlington, the latter seemingly more logical, by the State of Louisiana, to say nothing of one major draw bridge over the Pearl and other chasms to be spanned.

To hard-surface the present trail, some thirty miles or more, can be accomplished immediately, at a cost of only $2500 per mile. It is proposed, according to report, to use the same material of liquid preparation over the gravel as Louisiana did through its section of Honey Island, which makes for a splendid roadway. Mississippi authority is quoted as saying actual work on the O. S. T. in Hancock county will begin before January 1.

The commissioners will arrive before the 2nd; will make a thorough investigation, going over the road and, after making a complete survey of the situation, will be ready to confer December 2. The conference will be held under the auspices of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, and representatives from along the Coast. Biloxi particularly will join in with members of the local Board of Supervisors members and others interested. The conference will be open and the public invited.

The commission, it was said, also plans to erect a barrier to join the Louisiana guard fence, along both sides of the dangerous section of road leading through Honey Island swamp.

Officials of the Association of Commerce of New Orleans and of the Motor League of Louisiana will join with Gulf Coast officials in accompanying the Mississippi Highway commission on its tour of the stretch to be hard-surfaced.

Work of hard-surfacing will require but a comparatively short time yet it will afford a paved road until such time as the road is concreted, it was said. Surfacing of the present stretch of gravel road is expected to reduce the driving time between the Gulf Coast and New Orleans by approximately one hour.

Co-Operating With C. of C.
Mississippi Highway commissioners are cooperating with the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce and Hancock county board of Supervisors and there is every assurance now that the matter is going to receive the attention sought for the past couple of years, at least.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB FORMED BY PUPILS AT EDWARDSVILLE

Held First Meeting Thursday of Last Week—Various Plans to Be Carried Out.

The Seventh and Eighth Grades of Edwarsville School have organized a Club which was named The Progressive Star Club by a majority vote of the members.

Their first meeting was held on Thursday, November 13, 1930, at 2:30 P. M., and it was decided that the meetings would be held weekly on above named day.

The officers are as follows:
President—Miss Sadie Robinson
Vice-President—Miss Lillian Lander
Secretary—Miss Hazel Bourgeois
Program—Miss Jessie Favre
Reporter—Miss Louvenia Bourgeois
Order—Miss Josephine Sims
Ventilation—Mr. Carl Richardson

The first meeting was a success in every sense of the word. The discussions by the President and the members were decidedly interesting. They have various plans which would prove exceedingly beneficial when carried out, and much enthusiasm is being displayed by the members.

WORKING FOR GAS FOR CITY

Petition Carrying Six Hundred Names Asking For Domestic Gas Is Ready

Following a recent resolution by the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, that Bay St. Louis and contiguous territory procure gas for heating and cooking purposes, a petition carrying approximately six hundred names from Bay St. Louis residents is now ready at the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

This petition was started by the secretary, Mrs. Juden, and Mr. Montgomery, residing in Sycamore, near Beach Boulevard, assisted by Mrs. George F. Stevens. "I wish the credit of this work be given to these friends," said Mrs. Juden, for their work was of valuable assistance to the cause.

The list of hundreds of residents and property owners who wish gas, and have said so over their signatures, will be taken up in due form and through proper process and presented to the source intended whereby it is planned to procure the benefit and convenience of gas.

"No effort will be left undone by the Chamber of Commerce. The matter will be pushed to immediate action," said George R. Rea, president.

BAY RESIDENT IS 'SPEAKER AT K. C. MEMORIAL SERVICES

Monday night Bishop Gunn Council No. 1583 Knights of Columbus held its annual memorial services in the K. C. Hall on the corner of 17th street and 24th avenue, at Gulfport. During the past year, death claimed A. J. Murphy of Long Beach, P. B. Magee of Mississippi City, A. B. Hayden of Pass Christian and Julian A. Mauffray of Mississippi City.

A large number of members were present, including visitors from Biloxi, Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian. Rev. Leo F. Fahey of Bay St. Louis delivered the memorial address, dwelling on death in its relation to the living and dead. Wm. Giblin's tenor voice was heard in a solemn solo. Father Spengler, chaplain of the council, closed the exercises with a short eulogy on the lives of the four members the council lost during the past twelve months.

Representing Pere Le Duc Council, Bay St. Louis, Father Fahey was accompanied by A. A. Scafide, local grand knight, and August Schiro also an officer in the local council.

News From Judge

Fuentes Court at Kiln, Beat Four

Simon Moran, of Sellers, charged with assault and battery, with intent, was given a hearing before Judge Frutas Fuentes at Kiln, was bonded over under the sum of $2,000, to await the action of the grand jury.

Findings of evidence to sustain the charge of assault and battery, and charged with assault and battery, was discharged.

On Monday Justice Fuentes' court found W. M. Nunnally, colored, guilty of two charges. The first was carrying concealed weapons, sentenced to thirty days in the county jail, $50 fine and costs, and on the second charge of assault and battery he was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment and $10.00 fine plus costs of court, times and costs totaling $74.00. In default of payment he was remanded to jail.

Deputy Sheriff Lander, Npaise made the arrests and charges in each instance.

STANDARD OIL CO. WILL SELL TIRES AND AUTO-TUBES

H. U. Canty, Resident, Says Standard Preparing For Extensive Service.

H. U. Canty, resident representative Standard Oil Company, announces his company will soon place on sale at all Standard Service Stations a supply of tires and tubes and not only along with a guarantee but there will be a special service offered. A tire, Mr. Canty says, that might not show proper wear will promptly be replaced after being properly credited to whom credit might be due. There will be no arguments and no parleying, the customer will readily receive a readjustment, and other features in a deal that will make it a pleasure and profit to trade with the Standard.

It will also be possible to file telegrams with any Standard service station, same to be received with the same dispatch as if filed with either Western Union or Postal, the Standard assuming responsibility.

In time, Mr. Canty says, the Standard stations will become the center of service and personal accommodation for lunch and cafe service opportunities in connection with the main business. The day is not far distant, says Mr. Canty, when one will go to the Standard Oil Companies stations or depot and be able to buy things and receive such services not dreamed of.

MAUFFRAY STORE TO EXHIBIT

And Demonstrate Waterspar Possibilities Balance of This Week—Public Invited.

There is always something new under the sun has been well said, and there is always something new of interest and value to the home and that gives added pleasure to its members.

There is now in progress, for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week an exhibit and demonstration of the possibilities of Waterspar, the new water paint, and advertisement to the effect of which appears elsewhere in this issue of The Echo. Waterspar is a decorative, water paint, of various hues and colors, inexpensive and with which so many charming effects may be procured.

The demonstrator, now at the Mauffray Store, is Mrs. J. P. Salisbury, who is not only an expert in these demonstrations, but is a competent interior decorator and is glad to advise with anyone who is contemplating the interior painting of their homes or the refinishing of furniture, etc. This demonstration will prove of advantage to any reader of The Echo and is given by the management of the Mauffray Store without cost and without obligating any visitor to the place. Ladies and gentlemen alike are asked to drop in the store any time during these three days and see Mrs. Salisbury.

The demonstration will also run through Monday.

ST. JOSEPH'S ALUMNI HOLDS SUCCESSFUL BENEFIT CARD PARTY

Affair At Local Hotel Wednesday Evening Is Pleasurable and Profitable.

Benefit bridge party given Wednesday night at Hotel Weston by the alumni of St. Joseph's Academy, was a thorough success from every angle, and the ladies in charge are to be complimented on the result. Eighteen tables of players enjoyed the evening and to the winner at each table a select present was awarded.

Mrs. Milton Phillips captured the entrance gift, a cake, and the other cake, allotted by number, went to Miss Carmen Chassagnon. In addition the delightful evening, the financial phase was such as to prove gratifying. With other returns in sight, the cash sum of $45.00 was in hand at the conclusion of the affair. This sum will be appropriated to the building fund of St. Joseph's Academy.

The party has been requested to express thanks to one and all on behalf of the ladies in charge for the fruitful co-operation. The response was liberal.

REV. FAHEY SPEAKER AT LUNCHEON

Speaks on "He Serves Most Who Serves Best" Before Rotary Club Wednesday

With nearly 100 per cent attendance, members of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club assembled on Wednesday noon at the regular weekly business luncheon, and heard Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey, native son, speak on "He Serves Most Who Serves Best," a motto of Rotary. He gave splendid application to the quotation and his logic and wit made for a fifteen minute address that featured the program. In conclusion he read Foss' famous poem, "The House by the Side of the Road," for, as he said, it breathed the very spirit of Rotary.

George R. Rea, recently returned from the convention of Chevrolet auto salesmen of two States, held at New Orleans, told of the note of optimism he had heard and was impressed with and passed on the good cheer and spirit. His remarks were constructive and to the point.

The president outlined new policies and appointed a new program committee, composed of Dr. Jas. A. Evans, chairman; George R. Rea, and Dr. C. M. Shipp.

An invitation from the domestic science department of Bay High School to lunch at the school on the second Wednesday in December, complimentary, was accepted.

It was announced that on Wednesday next, regular luncheon time, there would be a Thanksgiving program with a speaker already procured. It was also announced that the annual Ladies' Night and Christmas entertainment given to be voted on next Wednesday, should be participated in by the entire Rotary Club of Pass Christian.

In addition to Father Fahey, W. J. Gex, Jr., and Rev. Father Wm. J. Leech of Pass Christian, were guests.

LOCAL CITIZEN RECIPIENT OF IRISH SHELALAH

W. A. McDonald Reminded by Friend Recently Returned From Old Ireland.

W. A. McDonald is the distinguished recipient of a genuine Irish shalalah, brought to him a few days ago direct from the old country across the sea, and most probably it is the only one in these parts.

Some months ago, Mr. McDonald's friend, Timothy O'Brien, president of the Domino Paint Company, at New Orleans, on the eve of his departure for Europe visited Mr. McDonald and asked him what did he want from the other side.

"I cannot bring you a bottle of Scotch," said Mr. O'Brien, "but something more native and typical of Ireland will be a shalalah, and I shall endeavor to return with one for you."

The incident was forgotten until a few days ago when Mr. McDonald received the promised souvenir, and has it on exhibition at his office. As most readers will know, a shalalah is a weapon of defense, that is famed in story and history, but doubtless if many have ever seen one. It is quite a curiosity and worthy of seeing.

STATE PRESIDENT KING'S DAUGHTERS VISITING BAY CITY

Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mississippi Head, Actively Engaged Discharging New Duties.

Mrs. A. F. Fournier, State president Mississippi branch of King's Daughters and Sons, is in Bay St. Louis and along coast cities this week-end, actively engaged in the work and responsibilities that have come to her as result of the recent honor trust upon her worthy shoulders and capable hands.

"A new chapter has been formed at Meridian, since I was inducted into the office," said Mrs. Fournier this morning, "and I am anxious to organize at least two more chapters nearby." One is at Pascagoula and the other is at Ocean Springs, where none exist. I feel this will be accomplished in the immediate future."

Mrs. Fournier is intensely interested in the building of the proposed new hospital building in Bay St. Louis and hopes to see it finished before the next annual convention, which will be held in Bay St. Louis. The building will be of brick and located on land in Bay View Court, donated by Mrs. E. J. Leonard. Its completion during Mrs. Fournier's term will be quite a credit to her and to the city from which she emanates as state head as well.

BAY ROTES GUESTS OF SCHOOL

Invited to Lunch With Bay Hi Domestic Science Class Wednesday, December 10

Bay St. Louis Rotarians will be honored guests of the domestic science class of Central School, Miss Tarvar, instructress, at noon on Wednesday, December 10, when a menu entirely evolved and cooked by the class will be served with the compliments of the school.

The invitation was announced at the meeting of the club Wednesday and needless to say readily appreciated by a unanimous acceptance vote by the club committee of the club will prepare a suitable program for the occasion and it is probable there will be a number of invited guests to sit with the Rotary fellows.

SUPERVISORS STAND BY NEW HOSTELRIES

Refuse to Make Back Assessments Against Five New Coast Hotels as Asked By Miller

The board of supervisors, of Harrison County after a hearing, refused to make back tax assessments against the Pine Hills, Tivoli, Edgewater, Gulf, Avelez and Buena Vista hotels as requested by W. J. Miller, state tax collector.

The total assessment value for the three-year period fixed by Miller approximated $15,000,000. The supervisors claimed they had no right to pass on the constitutionality of the act exempting hotels from assessment for a period of five years.

BELL TEL. CO. GIVES CONTRACT

To Edw. Osbourn for Remodeling Interior of Building Now Occupied By Local Exchange

Edw. Osbourn, Bay St. Louis contractor and builder, was successful in capturing the contract for the work of remodeling and generally equipping the second floor interior of the Echo Building, occupied by the Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, preparatory to installing a brand new and improved telephone service known as the flash light system, probably by March 1.

There were a number of competitors and sealed bids had been submitted some time back. The contract calls for revamping the interior of the entire second story and bracing with steel. Removal of all partitions and reappportioning the space, also removing the present public hall-way now in use. There will be the main operating space, an office, rest and recreation rooms and a cafeteria. The walls will be entirely new. A radiator heating system and double the present capacity of plumbing will be installed, which will all be new. While Mr. Osbourn has the general contract, and will do the bulk of the work, he will subcontract the brick and cement work, which is given to Joseph L. Favre of Bay St. Louis.

Other work includes heating by Hayden & Co., of Pass Christian; electrical, Archie Sourcouf; painting, Sidney Manieri. Steel from the Lukens Steel Company at New Orleans; lumber and mill work, Norton Haas; plumbing, by A. Lumber Company; Benvenutti, Bay Plumbing Company. Plastering to be done locally by job.

This work on inside of building, Contractor Osbourn stated, will figure to approximately $5,000, and in no way includes the fixtures for the new system and cables to be installed later.

The Bell T. & T. Company has a twenty-year lease on the entire second story of the building and the rebuilding and improvements to be put in will be of a permanent character.

The work now in progress on the exterior of the building is a separate contract. Contractor Osbourn is to be congratulated on his success.

CLEVER HIGHWAY GET-UP IN C. OF C. SHOW WINDOW

Secretary Constructs Miniature Highway, Showing Present And Future Highway.

An unusually clever get-up on exhibition in the window front of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, conceived and executed by Mrs. M. Juden, secretary. Half way across the window edge, along the plate glass is a roadway built of sand and gravel actually taken from the O. S. T. where the road is "bad," and a number of miniature autos are shown mud-bespattered and either turned over or ready to go down the embankment.

The other half, and connected with guard rail and meshwork of iron, electrically-illuminated poles, and spick and span-looking autos in position as if gliding along smoothly and with dispatch. At one end the Mississippi sign is noted and on the other the Louisiana sign.

This demonstration of what is and what might be was evolved to call attention to the roadway conference to be held in Bay St. Louis Tuesday, December 2, at 2:30 o'clock, when Highway Commissioner J. F. Thames and other members of the commission will be here to officially look into the matter and hear discussions.

A CALL FOR CHARITY BY ST. MARGARET'S DAUGHTERS FOR XMAS

A meeting of the executive board held on Friday the 14th, at the home of Mrs. G. Y. Blaise to devise ways and means to carry on their charity calls were numerous and urgent. It was decided to raffie a turkey for Xmas and later will be mailed to each member and it is hoped that the public will respond liberally to this effort.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL IS ACTIVE

Mrs. M. Juden, C. of C. Secretary, and Assistants Put Drive In Active Force.

The annual Red Cross roll call is on in Bay St. Louis and will soon be active over Hancock county. This section never fails on its quota and the work will go over the top, as usual. George R. Rea, county chairman, heads the cause. Mrs. M. Juden, secretary Chamber of Commerce, is captain of the city and has a force of assistants that, have begun work in earnest and considerable sum already collected, but the task is big and considerable work will be pushed in order to see all who wish to contribute this mite to the world-wide cause.

Ward and section captains, collecting from house to house and from places of business, are Mrs. E. G. Schwartz, of Waveland for that section; Miss Hermie Perkins, Miss Stella Tudory, Miss Effie Graham Power, Mrs. Kenneth W. Pepperdine and Mrs. Ralph Roogan and Misses Levia and Miriam Engman.

This work must be finished by December 1st. The hope is expressed, that the solicitors will be assisted as much as possible in making the task light and to facilitate the work to the full extent. In other words, the co-operation of the individual and the public as a whole is asked.

CHILD IS VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Yvonne Roberts, Aged 4, Injured by Truck While Playing on Main Street Thursday.

Yvonne Roberts, aged 4 years, while playing on Main Street, with a number of other children Thursday at about noon time, was run down by a truck owned by Frank Quintini and driven at the time by a young man named Bud Nelson.

The child was rushed to the local King's Daughters Emergency hospital where Dr. Horton and Dr. Smith attended the case. It was found she had one leg severely injured but not broken, her body bruised and aside from scratches her lip was severely slit. At this writing it was not as yet determined if she was internally injured.

Witnesses to the accident state that it was unavoidable and that the driver was in no way to blame. It was stated the Roberts family reside in the western section of Carroll avenue.

The little girl is very brave and suffered her injuries with much fortitude, while the hospital attention was given.

CONVENT GYM TO FORMALLY OPEN DECEMBER 14

Construction of the new gym building for St. Joseph's Academy is progressing at such rapid rate that the date of dedication and formal opening is announced, the faculty making December 14 as the date. Rt. Rev. Bishop R. O. Gerow, preceded by a solemn high mass at the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf. The building is a handsome and substantial one and a pride to the religious as well as the civic community.

Forthcoming Play for R. W. Webb Ward School

Parent-Teachers' Association of the R. W. Webb Ward School of the city will give a play at Central School auditorium on a date to be announced. This entertainment will be presented by pupils of the Webb school exclusively and gives interesting promises. It will be under the auspices of the Webb P-T-A.

OUR OWN INSANE ASYLUM.

One of the Ohio insane hospitals was burned last week but by sheer good luck none of the inmates lost their lives—the blaze originating early in the evening. Let us all hope that the old ramshackle institution at Jackson will be spared and the more than two thousand patients there will be removed before they are the victims of fire. While Governor Bilbo and the Whitfield building commission are at loggerheads and delaying the completion of the new hospital in Rankin county the lives of all the unfortunate at Jackson are periled.

L. O. CROSBY IS A BUILDER.

Mr. L. O. Crosby of Picayune has recently paid $25,000 for a pure-bred Jersey bull which will head his already fine herd of dairy cattle. The animal is five years old and was bred on the Island of Jersey. Wealthy men like Mr. Crosby in other sections are doing a great work in introducing pure-bred dairy cattle and the fame of Mississippi as a butter and cheese State in the next few years will spread far and wide.

STICK A PIN HERE, PLEASE.

We have yet to meet or know of an advertiser who makes use of bill boards and signs on telephone poles and trees that could trace any direct sales made through such method of advertising. The progressive business men and firms in going after customers use and pay for space in their local newspapers—the proven means for increasing their volume of business from year to year.

Some of these days the government is going to spend $850,000 in erecting a postoffice building at Jackson but just when is not known, as the site for the structure has not been agreed on.

Records have been dug up showing that there has been a decided decrease in juvenile delinquency during the recent business depression. If this be true, then the "hard times" were a blessing in disguise for the youth of our country, if not to other folks.

The November term of the Hinds county circuit court was convened last Monday morning with a criminal docket the heaviest in its history. The trials of Rush Knox, Cecil Inman, Bura Hibun and Alfred Anderson, all charged with misuse or misappropriation of State funds, are set for trial during the term.

For aiding and abetting in the robbery of a jewelry store at McComb some months since, one McGuire, a lawyer of that city, has been convicted and sentenced to the State penitentiary for a term of seven years. The legal profession is a noble and honorable one but as the old saying is "there are black sheep in every flock."

Within the last few days we have read of several husbands killing men they suspected of being familiar with their wives. Such killings would never occur if married women did not make the first advances, for no man is going to invade the sanctity of another man's home unless it is upon the invitation of a faithless wife.

At the request of Hon. Carl C. White, State auditor, his office was recently audited and the report handed in by the auditor who did the work shows that Mr. White has accounted for every cent he has handled. We have no recollection of certain other State officials ever having made similar requests, especially Rush H. Knox, Cecil Inman, Bura Hibun et al.

John Schexnayder, an 82-year-old Livingston parish, Louisiana, backwoodsman, who had not worn shoes in seven years, had never read a newspaper, and did not know that the Civil War had ended, much less that there was any law against making liquor, appeared before Judge Borah at Baton Rouge the other day to answer a charge of moonshining. He was placed on five years parole, after entering a plea of guilty.

Down in the circuit court of Harrison County Judge W. A. White has ordered a $30,000 judgment in the alienation of affections suit reduced to $10,000. He is evidently of the opinion that the process of liquidating love in cash is the essence of absurdity.—Jackson Daily News, after hearing the testimony, Judge White was of the opinion perhaps that the affections of the erring husband were valued entirely too high by both the plaintiff and the jury.

The Echo ventures the assertion that the combined tax rolls of all the counties in Mississippi do not show a smattering of pistols assessed as there actually are in any one of the eighty-two counties. Pistol "toting" is a practice prevalent in both whites and negroes and responsibility for the growing number of killings is directly traceable to such practice. No man, white or black, who possesses even a small amount of courage can be guilty of "carrying a gun" for his own protection and but for the fact that he has a gun on his hip there would be less taking of human life. A law carrying much heavier penalty for carrying concealed weapons is what Mississippi is sadly in need of to put an end to or minimize the number of killings which we read of from day to day.

FIGHTING GOVERNOR BILBO

THE VERY MENTION of Theodore G. Bilbo's name or what he does or does not do, is sufficient to arouse the ire of the Jackson Clarion-Ledger, but we are afraid that our capital contemporary makes a mistake in continually berating the chief executive. Abuse of the "Stormy Petrel," whether deserved or not, is largely responsible for the rise of Bilbo to a place of power in the politics of Mississippi, and it is playing into his hand when the Clarion-Ledger and his enemies continue to use invective and denunciation to down the one man in Mississippi who owes his elevation to high office solely to that cause.

As a crafty and astute politician Bilbo stands in a class all by himself, and however much his enemies may proclaim that he is "a dead cock in the pit" such is not the case. He has a following in the State that will support him despite all the mistakes he has made—and they have been many—and in some instances such as would have consigned other men to political oblivion. He will remain a powerful factor in the political affairs of Mississippi for sometime yet.

The Echo does not wish to be classed as a champion or defender of Governor Bilbo. By no means is this paper an admirer of the chief executive, but it believes that the opposition to him is "on the wrong track" when it tries to minimize the extent of his influence over a very considerable portion of the electorate.

CONTRIBUTORY TO LYNCHING

Seventeen men were arraigned in a South Carolina court a few days ago to answer indictments charging them with murder. They were identified as members of a mob that lynched a negro at Whalhall and the mayor of that town and his chief of police were among the seven. Evidence adduced at the trial fixed their guilt beyond the shadow of doubt in the minds of every one—except the twelve men in the jury box, and a verdict of not guilty was returned.

It is just this sort of miscarriage of justice which encourages the mob spirit and mob violence and it is a matter of no wonderment that we hear of lynchings, which are not wholly confined to any one section of the country.

In commenting on this South Carolina case the Hattiesburg American says:

It is hard to understand how circumstances of this kind can be excused and the offenders given a clean bill of health both by direct verdict and the decision of the jury.

Eyes throughout the nation were fixed upon this South Carolina court. The fact that a group of seventeen men were brought to trial and positive testimony offered regarding their participation offered hope that a decisive blow would be struck at lynch law.

Acquittal of the entire group strengthens the case against legal efficiency and public opinion in the South with regard to this degrading evil, and paves the way for federal interference in protecting the rights of prisoners and upholding the dignity and sanctity of the law. Southern people seem unable to entertain this probability seriously, but unless they arouse themselves to wipe out lynching and mob violence, the blow will fall surely and swiftly some day.

With every such manifestation of laxity and indifference as that at Whalhall, the citizenship of Whalhall, the citizenship of those states where lynchings occur from time to time, is indicted once again for brutal indifference to crime against helpless individuals and the constituted law of the land.

UNFAIR COMPETITION.

It is all right for the Federal government to engage in the manufacture of some things so long as they do not come into competition with private enterprise. This thought is based on the fact that such is not the case. Take for instance the printing of return envelopes for private individuals and business concerns at a cost of only a little more than the job shop printer has to pay for blank envelopes of as good quality and weight as those the government furnishes. This is an abuse and injustice of which our great government should not be guilty, but further effort will be made when the next congress meets to put a stop to this particular privilege which the government printing office now enjoys at the expense of the thousand and one private printing plants throughout the country. The National Editorial Association, newspaper publishers and printers have protested for years against such unfair competition, but such protests have met with no success. A still more aggressive effort to have congress take action is now promised.

BLOW TO REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION.

There is a dense silence on the part of leaders of the Republican party with regard to the November election. Before the ballots were polled they were busy day in and day out trying to explain away the failure of the administration to bring about the "good times" and "wonderful prosperity" which was to follow in the event their party won the election in 1928, but their excuses fell on deaf ears, as shown by the sound drubbing administered on November 4th to their candidates.

TO WIN IN 1932.

It is within the power of a united stand by the Democratic leaders in Congress to pave the way for winning the presidency in 1932. To pursue a policy of obstruction of any and all legislation proposed by the opposition simply because it is sponsored by spokesmen of the present administration would be foolish and could result in no good, either to the Democratic party or to the country. With two houses of congress so nearly divided an opportunity for accomplishing some real service to the country at large is presented to our party leaders and we believe they will take advantage of the occasion.

HOW ABOUT THE $80,000?

It has been several weeks since Lester Franklin announced that he would "whip hell out of any man" who even intimated that he shared in the $80,000 paid by Warren Brothers in settlement of that ten million dollar suit. To date we have not heard of anybody being whipped by the pugnacious gubernatorial aspirant.

LOCAL SIDELIGHTS

TO REBUILD HIGHWAY CAUSE FOR JUBILATION.

There is general jubilation over the announcement to the effect Old Spanish Trail from La-Atina, made line to Bay St. Louis is going to be immediately hard-surfaced. This is the only remaining stretch, thirty miles, of gravel road remaining between New Orleans and Mobile. Seemingly impossible stretches of water have been bridged for the auto at what was formerly considered prohibitive in cost, and yet a stretch of comparative short distance like the link now to be hard-surfaced, remained unattended, taking a toll of lives and maiming others. It was said at one time the State should maintain an emergency hospital at some central point on this stretch of the O. S. T. And a perambulating ambulance would not have been a bad idea. On the contrary, along with the hospital, a most practical thing. However, the time for apprehension, fear and doubt has passed, and even for railery. The splendid road is now in sight. The matter goes and goes and construction is to be forthcoming and our friends from New Orleans who are wont to motor over to the Gulf Coast may now visit us frequently, conveniently, economically and safely, and—vice versa.

GREAT WORK BY BAY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

It is not the intention of this column to take away any credit to whom credit is due, but the fact remains through the organized effort of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce the matter of hard-surfacing and protecting the Old Spanish Trail into New Orleans has been brought about, State Highway Commissioners co-operating and willing to attend to the wants of this section.

It thus behooves all the more that everybody who is somebody, who thinks something of the community and of duty in which he resides and possibly makes his bread and butter should, at least, have a membership in the Chamber of Commerce. It identifies you, it stamps you and associates you with people who are part of the community, who are doing something and helping to put this slant on and slant over. Of course, every community, has its tightwads and drones, but of these the C. of C. roster shows none. Men and women who do things, who stand for something and who are entitled to the proper regard of their fellow-citizens are always associated with the best there is and with very constructive forces. INN BY-THA-SEA ON BAY ST. LOUIS TO REOPEN.

Of local interest is the announcement to the effect Inn-by-the-Sea, on Bay St. Louis, will reopen for business Thursday, next—Thanksgiving. L. C. Martin, well-known hotel man managing the Riviera at Biloxi, and one of the stockholders in the Edgewater Gulf and Inn, will be manager. "We already have a list of guests with reservations for the early winter," said Mr. Martin, and the prospects are good. "The Inn has always been a favorite with a large clientele from the North and we hope to keep the place filled throughout the season," he said.

Inn-by-the-Sea will be operated under the auspices of Edgewater Gulf Hotel, and this combined prestige will form a magnet that will attract thousands of people who would not otherwise come to the Gulf Coast.

A GOOD WAY TO DO AND METHOD OF BUYING.

"Folks who do not buy at home should not in turn be patronized," said a gentleman of character and ability and whose thought generally carries in this community. "Take your own business," he said, speaking to a representative of The Sea Coast Echo printing department. "The Echo employs several men, each have a family and purchasing power. Well, when I would receive a bill for gasoline or some other commodity that was printed by an out of town firm because they gave a two or three-color stock job, abominably gaudy and unbusiness like, I would refuse to patronize them further. You can go on the other side of the bay, buy gasoline for 7 or more cents cheaper per gallon, yet I feel sure you continue buying at home from people who are still sending their printing away. Since for the goose I have for the gander certainly will refuse to patronize them further. I do not subscribe to boycott but I do emphatically urge retaliation. Why should I buy from you if you fail to patronize me? Of course, unless you're a lunatic."

ALONG THE SHORT CUT.

Detroit has no speed limit. It is a violation of the law to drive under thirty miles within the incorporated limits of Los Angeles. Some of our drivers haul from either one or the other place. Gulfport is the best market for cut flowers. Florists do better there than any other point on the Coast. An authority so says. Even though one Gulfport hotel under new management no further adorns its dining room with flowers. It is said to be in line with retrenchment. A lady saving money with one thousand dollars as her goal since Sept. 1 had $82.00 saved up to 10 o'clock last Friday morning. We wish her more luck. Hotel Weston grows its own

VIEWES OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

Chicago, Ill., November 18.—To say I was impressed with the "Buy-At-Home" movement recently launched in Bay St. Louis would be speaking lightly on my part, for I can see many benefits coming to your town as a result of this progressive move.

Henry W. Oosinach, in his speech as reported in last week's paper, touched a vital spot when he proved from a New Orleans advertisement that items therein could be bought cheaper right in Bay St. Louis, and another when he said that efforts to retain a $35,000 payroll, while worthy, were not as important as those to keep in town the $100,000 in cash that flows into larger cities.

While it was not so reported, I am sure that one of the moves to be made by local merchants is to better acquaint the people of the community with what is for sale in their stores. Not enough buyers were present at the recent meeting, but if all the people could make the same comparisons as to price that were made at the banquet that Wednesday night, it is unlikely that many would go to New Orleans to purchase articles that could be obtained cheaper at home.

Just from taking a hasty glance at the largest ad in last week's paper I learned that Piggy Wiggle would sell me a 4 oz. bottle of horseradish for 10c. Immediately, I remembered that I paid 12c for a like bottle at my grocery the other day, and if I was near Bay St. Louis, it is very likely that Piggy Wiggle would sell me horseradish until I learned from some other ad that it could be obtained cheaper in another store.

Other parts of the country faring much worse than the Gulf Coast, I can tell by the news in the papers. Here is Leo Ford predicting 1931 to be one of the best years in the automobile business, and backing up his prophecies with real facts and figures. In view of the many good fortunes you have, it should not take long to provide funds in part, "My King's Daughter's and Sons' hospital, the erection of which is planned for an early date. Certainly all will appreciate the handsome gift of Mrs. Leonard and if others respond as heartily, the new edifice will not be long in becoming a reality.

Fittingly were the Bay St. Louis Armistice Day festivities opened. First a prayer by Father Fahey, then by the addresses of welcome in which the representative of the Mayor, Mr. Moreau, said in part, "Man can make no greater sacrifice than this, to lay down his life that another may live," and later, "We have the same kind of red blood running through our veins, and our hearts and minds are the same." Two thoughts that are well to keep in mind, not only on Armistice Day, but every other day as well.

"You can't buy a landslide," said our Ruth Hanna McCormick in answer to charges that she had purchased her place on the Republican ticket during the primaries. The results of the general election proved the truth of her statement, for her opponent was elected by a majority that rivaled that of Governor Roosevelt's in New York.

Fortunately, the Echo does not carry Sargon advertising, or last week it would have published the endorsement of that product by W. D. Upshaw, erstwhile Congressman from Georgia who was to the lower House what J. H. Heflin has been in the Senate. Editor Moreau is correct in his deductions that Heflin's contest will do him no good, so we may soon see him endorsing Konjola or some other concoction the manufacture of which is not prohibited at present.

And when anybody asks me whether I know Marchmont Schwartz, I always say, "Sure, I write for the paper in his home town, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi."

Flies and Fleas in Football Game Benefit Xmas Tree Fund—Line Up—Sodality Notes—Sam Ballard Makes Selections—"We Wonder Why"

Initiating their drive for aid for the Stanislaus Christmas Tree Fund, the College will give a Benefit Football Game at Stanislaus Stadium on Thanksgiving Day. Follows the announcement:

Oyez! Oyez! Ye Followers of the King of Football! Hear ye! Your Monarch calls you to the greatest game of the season on the local field. Ye old Fleas and Flies have been resurrected for your entertainment and for the pleasure of His Highness the King and Prince of Football.

You will have the opportunity of seeing the greats and near greats of the future battling it out on the local gridiron. And, do you know their football; ask the gang who had the good fortune to see them play last Sunday against the renowned Buccaneers of Napa Valley. The end runs and cut-backs of the young stars were amazing to every one in the stands. Most of the contestants are no bigger than a good sized pitcher, but how they can play. They will no doubt show us their seniors on many plays. So don't miss this treat of the year. It will be for a good cause too. The total receipts go towards swelling the Christmas tree fund. So come along, see a good game and at the same time help a good cause.

A word or two about the weighty contestants and their prowess: Hilary Wolbrecht had an easy time of taking care of two opponents last Sunday, but we doubt whether he can take care of one Jimmy Ryan without the help of a couple of others; there are still Glovers to come along, to help keep the family rep in the football "lineup"; there will be two, Dave and Jo, to keep up the family traditions in this famous game; Garland Anderson covered himself with glory last Sunday and he hopes to show you just how he did when he lines up against the Flies; Bernies Lacoste has still to show that he can imitate his elongated brother and we are here to say that he can and will; Tom and Bill Gordon will line up opposite each other and you know how brothers like each other, just watch 'em; the Grevenberg clan too will be represented by two of the tightest little Fleas you have ever had the misfortune to catch; Frank Nix will have as his opponent F. Fayard and these two will need a chain to keep them apart; Tom Quintini, Folse Roy and Jimmy Henry will try their best to see any one get in their way.

Again don't miss this game. Its going to be a great day—THANKSGIVING DAY. No matter how much turkey you eat that day, come out to see the game and we can assure you that you will never think of any indigestion. Remember too, the cause for which the game is played and you will be helping some youngster to spend a happier Xmas.

GREMILLON ABSENT FROM COACH.
Vallie Gremillon, Captain of the 1930 varsity, was attacked by appendicitis Saturday. He was rushed to the infirmary where he was attended by the college physician. Saturday the team sadly missed him and his cheering and defensive and offensive play against the Panthers. Saturday night the ambulance called up and took him to the "Noury" in New Orleans. We are hoping to have him back with us soon although he will be out for the rest of the season.

SODALITY NOTES.
President Dick called the meeting to order by reading the minutes of the last meeting. He seemed to be glad to be back in the chair after his three weeks vacation from it.

No minutes were read at the meeting.

The first question was again those of the dues. There will probably be no more lectures from Ignatius for long while, since slackers in the matter of dues were told to leave and stay "left."

Bobbie Camore talked on the Sodality. Pins which will at last take their trip Southward to Bay St. Louis and arrive between Wednesday and Thursday, or is it Friday? Bobbie was not quite sure. He announced that boys had ordered Queen's Works and never paid for them, and that those boys will have to buy their issues separately at the price of a nickel a copy.

Samuel Ballard appointed his Entertainment Committee, showing much discretion in his choice. As he himself said, he picked the boys not for their looks but for their lack of self-consciousness and ability to entertain without wondering if they are making themselves appear foolish. Here they are: John Ladrer, Billy Major, Salvador Ducas, Berch Colbert, James Dam, Charles Moss, Gulotta, W. Price, Julius Fayard, and one of the younger Di Benedettis and C. J. Stockton.

Dominick the vice-president, read us a few select articles from a Sodality magazine. He read about the Sodality, how it was established in 1863, and how it is found all over the world now. He explained the ideal of the Sodality, a pure and stainless life devoted to the Blessed Sacrament, and also how, by this ideal he leads, inspires, directs, and sets example to his fellowmen. Dominick reads well. The Sodality would welcome more of these readings. Someone in the back moved that the meeting be adjourned and the motion carried.

WE WONDER WHY?
Lacost is called "Slat." Garst is humming the Tiger Rag. Jacobs is called "Uncle Pill." Foster likes to sing "Am I Blue." Kornegay is called Cutie. Luke likes bushy hair. Vicknair is called simples. Tracy gave up all hopes. Sharp is called adhevisse. Genard was so blue Tuesday. I. Lilly is so indifferent. The band will have the "big-head" Saturday. Matherne can't stop a pig in an all-penrose will be a mountain climber. Wilson was blue Saturday. Breaux says she's short and sweet. Whitmyer likes to tap-dance. B. Labry is smoking now. Lyons was gripped Saturday afternoon. Wittman goes to DeLisle. Genard is called brute. Talley is losing weight.

Pascagoula Fisherman Victim of Insecurity of Mattress Banks
W. R. Clark an aged fisherman of Pascagoula, went fishing as usual the other morning after the loss of his life's savings, $6030, the night previously although the authorities are continuing their investigation the theft of the money may never be solved.

"It was all I had in the world besides my home," Clark told Deputy Sheriff J. A. Browne, and as he made a new start he indicated that while mattresses are useful for sleeping purposes their value for banking had deteriorated sadly in his estimation.

Clark, a bachelor, lives alone at Dupont avenue and Carty street. He locked up his house and came to the business section last night. When he returned home he found the back door had been forced open. He quickly turned back the mattress beneath which he had hidden his savings in bags. All had been taken.

He reported the theft promptly and officers began seeking clues. The thief apparently made his entry, obtained the cash and escaped without being noticed by anyone in the vicinity. A screw driver or small chisel is believed to have been used in forcing the back door.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

Blessing of S. J. A. Memorial Hall To Take Place Sunday Dec. 14.

The long awaited date has at last been announced. The blessing of our new building is to take place on Sunday, December 14.

All S. J. A. is ringing with the news and all from the First Graders to the Seniors are busy at work preparing for the great event.

First of all the "Gym" will be formally opened on Saturday, December 13th with an "Entertainment" in which the whole school will be represented.

The blessing proper is to take place on Sunday, December 14. The ceremonies will begin at ten o'clock with a solemn High Mass at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, then will follow the blessing of the S. J. A. Memorial Hall by His Lordship the Right Reverend Bishop R. O. Gerow.

The S. J. A. Alumnae is taking entire charge of the luncheon which is to be served immediately after the conclusion of the ceremonies.

The first basketball game will be played in the new "Gym" at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. The Gold Jays of course are working hard to make sure that they will score a victory in this game, which will witness the opening of their "long-dreamed-of Gym."

S. J. A. hopes that this will be the greatest "home-coming" day in its history.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING.

The Seniors held a class meeting this past week. It seems that they had important business to transact. Judging by the enthusiasm displayed it must have been important. After several battles with a few rounds of irony, sarcasm, bricks and bouquets thrown in the girls finally decided upon Maroon and White as their class colors. This decision had to be made quickly as Class '31 expects to see its class colors "flying high" on December 14 in the most "ostentatious place obtainable in that 'Dream Gym'." It's not going to be a pennant, but a beautiful shield of St. Joseph—How do you like that, folks? But just wait until you see it!

CHILDREN OF MARY.

The Sodality devoted last Thursday's regular weekly meeting to the answering of the "Questionnaire" sent out by Father Lord. The answers were also compiled by the Sodality and forwarded to the headquarters of the Children of Mary. These "Questionnaires" are being answered by thousands of Sodality members throughout the United States. The answers are to appear in the January issue of the Queen's Work, which is the official paper of the Sodality. Many of the questions asked are most interesting and we are all anxious to know what the other Children of Mary think of them and how they answered them. So we await the January number of the Queen's Work most expectantly.

FEAST OF THE PRESENTATION.

Friday is the Feast of the Presentation of Our Blessed Lady. Remember Sodality! We agreed at the beginning of the year that the Children of Mary would pay special honor to their Mother on her Feast Days. Many of you disappointed us at the last monthly communion of the Sodality. morning. Come 100 per cent. Gen. November 21-24 November 20, and the suffering souls are pleading for help.

BASKETBALL.

The Jays held their first practice in the college "Gym" last Friday. Playing basketball outdoors is quite different from playing it on an indoor court. Those who had never played in the "Gym" before soon realized when they began sliding about the floor. Miss Perkins worked everybody hard but all were anxiously asking when the next "Gym" practice would be—so much had they enjoyed their indoor scrimmage.

Nerved mind girls! It sounds too good to be true but you'll soon be practicing in your own gym.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES DO THEIR BIT FOR THE GYM.
It was the Seventh and Eighth Grades' turn this past week to show what they could do for the gym. They held a pop-corn and candy sale last Tuesday which netted them enough money to put almost two hundred bricks to their credit in the S. J. A. Memorial Hall. That's the way to go at it girls! Keep up that spirit and you'll soon be able to redeem every "unpaid-for" brick in our new building.

I do hate Monday so! For me they are always turn out the proverbial hue. The way I start a "Blue Monday" off is to stamp my foot while dragging myself out of bed. Then I discover that the clock is ten minutes slow and that it's already eight o'clock. The water is icy cold and there are two buttons off the one clean waist. There's cereal for breakfast, and how I hate cereal. After a five minute search my geometry is found under the sofa. I have a fight with my sister over nothing at all, and finally arrive at school ten minutes late. I discover that I have left my English work at home, and I keep up a steady conversation with my neighbor with the result of a deduction of quite a few notes from my averer. When School is over at last! But I've still got ten lines to recite.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADE NEWS.

The Fifth and Sixth grades inform us that some "champion spellers" are also to be found in their midst. During the past week the highest grades were made by the following girls: Edith Spornino, 100; June Elliott 100; Margory Suzanne 98; Dorothy Tudury 96; Pearl Chauvin 96; In the Fifth grade the highest honors for spelling were won by: Imabelle Fahey 90; Helen Biguenet 88; Eunice Fayard 88.

OLD MEN'S HOME DOING GOOD WORK.

An institution in Jackson which has the whole state as its scope of operation and which is supported by public subscriptions is the Old Men's Home under the management of Rev. J. P. Harrington. This institution is taking care of a large number of indigent old men from every section of the state and an effort is being made to raise funds amply for its proper support. A new law gives boards of supervisors authority to appropriate money to the support of the Old Men's Home, and already a number of county boards have made appropriations. No more worthy cause than this one is known in Mississippi and now the institution that legal authority has been given, it is hoped by the management of the institution that ample funds may be provided through individual and county donations.

RADICAL UTTERANCE BY LEADER WOMEN'S TEMPERANCE UNION

Says Al Smith's Defeat Was Caused by Wet Position—Every Good Man and Woman on Dry Side—Wrong

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held its national convention at Houston, Texas, last week, and the Associated Press tells of an enthusiastic demonstration by the delegates "when they were told that severe defeat would be given any wet presidential candidate."

Dr. Mary Harris ARMOR, head of evangelistic work for the organization, was the speaker, and her hearers went "hog wild" when she asserted:

"If the wets think they can elect a wet president, they had better think again! We beat one wet candidate where they had to pick up the pieces. Next time, be he the Democrat or Republican, I predict they will have to get blotting paper to pick him up."

"We have every good man and every good woman on our side. I won't say every man and woman on the other side is a rascal but I'll say every grand rascal is on that side."

While the women cheered she went on to assert that "the right," a large section of the press, "and Herbert Hoover," also were "on our side."

Dr. ARMOR charged "a few multi-millionaires" were behind a campaign for beer with the hope that a beer tax would save them taxes, and said she wished they could know her contempt for them.

Of course the good lady can be excused for her rash claims she gave voice to, however. The Echo would accept the same. It is quite true that Al Smith was defeated in 1928, but no one knows better than herself that his defeat did not result from his views on the liquor question. Nor can The Echo accept the lady's assertion that every good man and every good woman is on the dry side.

To do so would be rank folly and a denial of sincerity on the part of a very large element who are in the fold of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. We have long since realized that the major portion of those who advocate temperance are very intemperate in their speech, and especially is this noticeable when the speakers are of the "gentle sex."

In conclusion we would gently remind Dr. Mary Harris ARMOR that the next presidential nominees of both major parties will stand on platforms advocating modification—if not repeal—of the national liquor laws. So there will be no need of any blotting paper.

Donates $2000 to New Coast School

Arthur F. Kenney of Chicago at the dedication of the new Woolmark $25,000 brick school building last Friday night announced that he was arranging to deposit a $1000 endowment bond in the First National Bank of Biloxi, the interest from which will be applied to the annual purchase of prizes for the "best achieving pupils."

Mr. Kenney had previously given $1000 for the beautification of the school grounds.

Pass Driver Fails To See Guard Arm At Bay Auto Bridge Draw

Danger signals seem to prove unavailing and bring no terror for some. Alan Wagon, an old negro, residing at Pass, Christian, had been to Bay St. Louis and was returning to his home town Tuesday evening when he crashed into the black and white draw barricade, tearing it away completely. He fortunately stopped his vehicle in time to keep him from plunging into the waters below as the draw span was opened. He was unhurt and the car only surface damaged, however, the arm, was splintered and wrenched from its hinged position. A somewhat similar accident occurred this week on the bridge over Bayou Fortage, when a Ford car carrying a number of negroes skidded on the span and its wreckage emmeshed in the draw span. A wrecker from Pass Christian came to the rescue in due time and the bridge was open to traffic.

SENATOR YAWN TELLS OF HIS FIRST TRIP ON R. R. TO NEW ORLEANS

Made The Journey From Bay St. Louis After Selling Herd Of Cattle—First Visit To Bar Room—What The Hardware Salesman Told Him—Then Wanted to Purchase in Wholesale Lot Only.

Senator H. C. Yawn, State Treasurer and well known resident of Lumberton, of this Senatorial district, composed of Lamar, Pearl River and Hancock counties, frequently during the course of public addresses loves to tell of one of his boyhood experiences—his first ride on a railroad train, and, which by the way, was from Bay St. Louis to New Orleans over the Louisville & Nashville railroad. He told this story in extenso before a Ladies Night Rotary Club meeting at the Harbor two summers ago, and again last week in brief told of it at the luncheon served to the bankers and others attending the meeting of Group 8, Mississippi State Bankers' Association, of which gathering he was an honored guest as a state official.

"It was a good many years, when I was a youth in my early teens," says the Senator, as he tells this funny story with all seriousness and in such manner of fact, that one hardly dares to laugh. "I had come down from the interior of the country with my brother and a herd of cattle. We were told Bay St. Louis was a good market, as it subsequently proved to be and we sold every head quickly and to advantage.

"With a lump sum of cash, and having never ventured forth out into the world beyond the confines of that section embracing between our farm house and the seacoast town, I decided to go to New Orleans and take my first railroad train ride. The thought, as I remember, thrilled me. On the morning of that eventful day, I journeyed the big city. The train sped along through the marshes with what seemed to me a velocity like a shooting meteor from the orb of heaven to earth. In truth the train was a slow one, but to me it seemed otherwise and all too fast.

"Reaching New Orleans I was overwhelmed, but fortunately I was not lost my outward poise. I was cautious to a superlative degree, and for fear of revealing my apprehension I asked no questions. I thought it would be the thing to enter the bar room that seemed to first attract my attention. I saw many men there and it seemed to me it was the place for me to go if I were to assume my position with men and to be of their number.

"What will you have to drink said the bartender, eyeing me rather suspiciously and not at all putting me at the ease I so desired just at that time. To call for whiskey would have been out of place. I readily thought, so I managed to give voice to the wish I finally expressed. I said wine.

"What kind of wine," he came back with, and it was painfully evident I had never given the subject of wine any study or thought.

"Seeing my dilemma he said there were various kinds of wine and proceeded to give them in categorical order. The moment he said California wine I instantly said that was the kind I wanted. It might have been California wine, but to me it was anything but something good to drink. My taste and stomach rebelled. Finally I made way with part of it and departed.

"I thought of my brother whom I had left in Bay St. Louis that morning and how he would be eagerly awaiting my return that evening. It dawned upon me that I must bring him something, a kind of souvenir of the trip. I saw pocket knives exhibited in a show window in a store that must have been Stauffer-Eshleman, Canal street, as best as my memory serves me. Entering, a salesman came up to me and was soon exhibiting the different makes. To bring back a pocket folding knife would be just the thing. The boys back home would view it with marvel and possibly envy. Finally I saw one that struck by fancy and asked the price. The salesman politely informed me that I would have to buy a gross for the house did only a wholesale business and sold nothing at retail. Imagine my disappointment and humiliation.

"That I was hungry had long ago become evident, painfully so. I saw no place where I might eat and I was not going to further expose my ignorance of things and places in the big city. A closed mouth would be wisdom. Meandering aimlessly, I saw an abundant display of apples and it behooved me to go over and make a purchase. I occurred to me what I could not eat I could take back home to my brother at Bay St.

COW A MACHINE TODAY, SAYS HYDE

Attends Ceremony In New Jersey Installing Device To Wash and Milk 50 At Once.

Plainsboro, N. J., Nov. 13.—The cow as a piece of machinery in the development of agricultural science was observed objectively by Arthur H. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, today at the ceremonies attending the dedication of the new rotolactor, an automatic milking machine, at the Walker-Gordon Research Laboratories here. This device, which washes, dries and milks a cow in twelve and a half minutes, was started by Thos. A. Edison, who pressed a button in his West Orange laboratory to make the contact.

"This farm is industrialized, mechanized, apotheosized, to the nth degree," said Mr. Hyde, in an address that was broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company network. "Here the cows are producing machines, batteries of industrial automata, through which the raw materials are fed from the fields to the milk bottle."

After indicating that in his opinion agriculture had made great strides in the past generation, Mr. Hyde said that the question confronting the American farmer was whether he would continue his old individualistic methods or adopt modern scientific methods of operation.

The new machine which was demonstrated today has a revolving circular tube sixty feet in diameter onto which the cows step in turn, receive their baths, are dried and milked in the course of one revolution. Fifty cows are accommodated at a time on the machine.

The following story may or may not be true, but from the leathargic business methods of some of our merchants, the disappointing thing which happened to the hero of the story is indeed likely to occur to anyone buying socks at these stores:

A bachelor found this note in a pair of socks he purchased: "I am an attractive girl of 20, working in the factory where these socks were made. If purchaser is single, please communicate with me; object matrimony."

The bachelor wired to the address immediately; he received this reply: "Mamma married twenty years ago; evidently your sock merchant doesn't advertise."

Louis and the family on the farm. This reasoning appealed to me and forthwith I proceeded to make my purchase. I was not to be disappointed; no sir. I asked the fruit vendor how much a barrel he sold his apples, and when I realized my hopelessness to carry such quantity with me, and the situation was soon revealed to the vendor, he promptly said he was not a wholesale dealer. Imagine my relief. With a paper bag of apples I was soon munching on one of the number and on my way back to the L. & N. depot, long before train time, and where I patiently waited for hours.

"This has been many years ago, but the recollection of it has never lost any of its vividness. It always seems to me as it were but a few days ago. I oft times reflect over the events of that day, drawing deductions of then and today.

"My brother was at the depot awaiting my return and as he rode our horses that night homeward, I then felt my importance, as my brother felt it—that I had traveled on a steam train; that I had seen a great city and that I had mingled with men of the outside world. It was a day of funny situations, for I am not told here, and the time wears on the funnier these things of that eventful day appear to me. I still laugh and love to tell it. The story is on me, but it is a good one—too good to keep.

MISSISSIPPI STATE GUARANTY LAW GIVEN TEST IN COURT TRIAL

Constitutionality To Be Determined in Case By Depositor in Defunct D'Lo Bank.

Upon decision of Chancellor T. Price Dale of Columbia, who has taken under advisement the suit of W. P. Mangum, a depositor in the defunct D'Lo Guaranty Bank, will rest a test of constitutionality of the modified state bank guaranty fund act of the 1930 legislature. Chancellor Dale's decision will go to the state supreme court. Should the court decide the act constitutional the Mississippi banking department will issue more than five million dollars in bonds to retire outstanding certificates of deposits in banks which failed prior to modification of the act.

Mangum sued to force J. S. Love, state superintendent of banks, to issue him a certificate of deposit for the amount he had on deposit in the D'Lo bank when it failed. The bank closed its doors after the new law became operative.

The new law continued the assessments of 1-15 of 1 per cent on deposits, less capital and surplus, in state banks to be used in retiring the bonds to be issued in the liquidation of the certificates of indebtedness representing deposits in defunct banks. A special assessment of 3 per cent on capital and surplus was levied to be used in caring for deposits in banks failing after the modified law went into effect.

Mangum demanded that he be given a certificate of indebtedness under the old law, which demand was refused by Love and the litigation followed. The act, in providing for the bond issue, stipulates that the bonds cannot be issued until the act is declared constitutional. There is another clause in the modified act which stipulates that if one section of the new act is held to be void, then the old guaranty law is restored to power.

More than 25,000 depositors, some of whose funds were tied up 10 years, are interested in the outcome of the litigation.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S RULE REPUDIATED

Congressman Robert S. Hall was interviewed at his home in Hattiesburg a day or two after the election when it was known that the Democratic party had probably gained control of both houses of congress, and he asserted the result of the election was a direct repudiation of the Hoover administration.

Congressman Hall pointed out that the country's shift to Democracy can be ascribed to three main reasons, to-wit:

First, on account of the repudiation of the Republican campaign pledges to the agricultural interests. Hoover has failed the farmer.

Second, the utter impotency of the president. Third, the tariff wall which the Republicans have built up to give further protection to the industrial barons of the north and east.

To the Echo's way of thinking, Congressman Hall sums up in a few words just what brought about the Democratic landslide, and his estimate of President Hoover is absolutely true and correct.

In concluding the interview Congressman Hall said:

"I see in this section the revolt of the American people against the faulty economics of the present administration and against the leader of the party now in power who has not been a leader at all but merely a passive tool in the hands of the Republican politicians and their overlords," said Congressman Hall.

"People in the United States are getting back to the Democratic principle of states rights and they are swinging anew to the belief that independent policy is the best method of governing a country as large as ours. They no longer are listening to the Republican plea for centralization of government."

"If only we can gain a majority in the House the Democrats will be able to put into effect the principles of government without which the nation will never prosper. In either event, the Republican party will be virtually helpless during the remainder of the Hoover regime. Of one thing, then, we can be certain—and that is, that the Democratic gains in this election have ended the era of commercial and industrial tyranny instituted with Hoover by organized trusts."

Asked by the interviewer if President Hoover would again be nominated by the Republicans, Congressman Hall is quoted as saying:

"I do not see how they could," replied the congressman. "It would be like hoisting a political corpse. His own weaknesses are largely responsible for the collapse of his party at the polls and it is my opinion that it is through a figure of national importance. He can still sit in the White House but his power has been snatched from him and his administration for the rest of the term will be a more dismal failure than it has during the past two years."

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

The following record of industrial activity lists items showing investment of capital, employment of labor and business activities and opportunities. Information from which the paragraphs are prepared is from local papers, usually of towns mentioned and may be considered generally correct.

NEW GAS-ELECTRIC TRAIN SERVICE IS INAUGURATED

New gas-electric trains have taken the place of steam trains on the interstate lines of the New Orleans and Great Northern railroad, a division of the Gulf, Mobile and Northern railroads. The equipment consists of gas-electric locomotives and steel coaches, finished in aluminum and scarlet.

The electric power is produced by a gasoline engine, rated at 535 horsepower. Transferred to an electric generator, the power produces electricity sufficient to give the train a maximum speed of about 80 miles per hour. Its operating speed will run about 60. Cars are equipped with roller bearings throughout.

A special safety device is the foot pedal, upon which the locomotive operator must keep his foot. Should he move it, through any unforeseen cause, the lever is released and the emergency brake applied.

Among the points connected are Slidell, Bogalusa, Mandeville, Covington, Lacombe, Bonfouca and Abita Springs. An observation car is carried.

HUB CITY'S MAYOR GETS LOW RATE FOR NATURAL GAS SERVICE

Southern Petroleum Corporation Offers Gas at One-Half Price Coast Cities Are Paying

Mayor W. S. F. Tatum's efforts to obtain Mississippi natural gas for distribution to Hattiesburg consumers has borne fruit in a proposal received by the Hub City commission for distribution of gas from the Jackson field at rates approximately one-half those quoted under the Hub franchise which expired last Friday.

The Southern Petroleum Corporation and affiliated companies made the low bid, which provides a schedule affording domestic consumers the following schedule: 90 cents net for the first 1000 cubic feet per month; 60 cents for the second 1000, and 50 cents net per additional 1000.

Correspondingly low commercial and industrial rates were quoted.

The Jackson concern proposes to build a pipe line from its own wells to Hattiesburg and to install a distribution system there. The proposal probably will be submitted to the voters at a franchise election early in December.

THE DOCTOR PLAYS SAFE

Doctor—You are slightly morbid, dear lady. You should look about you and marry again.

Widow—Oh, doctor, is this a proposal?

Doctor—Allow me to remind you, madam, that a doctor prescribes medicine, but he doesn't take it.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

GOOD (Meridian Star)

Heflin out in Alabama—Cole Blease down in South Carolina—Ma and Pa Ferguson gone in Texas.

Good news for democracy—for all the South.

Alabama, South Carolina and Texas clean house with a right good will. No more the Heflin rant of prejudice; no more the demagoguery of Blease; no more the tawdry factionalism of the Fergusons.

At one fell swoop, three states of the South have voted to redeem themselves.

All of which forecasts a new and better dawn in Southern politics; a new era in affairs of government.

At last, three sovereign Southern states can elevate their heads above the shame of national disdain.

Alabama and South Carolina have at last chosen senators worthy of state and national respect.

Three of our Southern neighbors have cleaned house—scoured cheap, factional money changers and pewee politicians from the temples of their government.

May we voice the hope that Mississippi soon will follow suit.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT. A man may be down, but he isn't out until he discovers he can sponge on those who feel sorry for him.—Los Angeles Times.

BIGGER AND BETTER PRESENTING THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX

Today the Chevrolet Motor Company presents the Bigger and Better

Chevrolet Six, a new model of the six-cylinder car which has enjoyed such wide popularity. In the chassis and body of this new six-cylinder Chevrolet you will find expressed, as never before, Chevrolet's well-known policy of progress through constant improvement.

For—without departing from the basic features which have won the enthusiastic approval of over 2,000,000 buyers—Chevrolet has set an entirely new standard of quality and value in the low-price field.

Your first impression of the new Chevrolet will be one of striking fleetness, grace and beauty. The car is longer, lower and modernly smart. The radiator has been deepened. The long hood lines sweep back to blend gracefully into the new Fisher bodies. And never was Fisher's fine craftsmanship more evident than in the bodies of the new Chevrolet Six!

Not only are the bodies roomier and more comfortable, but as you study them you will discover many gratifying new features and refinements.

Mechanically, too, the new Chevrolet Six is a better automobile. The wheelbase is longer. The frame is stronger. The steering is easier. The clutch is more durable. There is a smoother, quieter, easier shifting transmission. In fact, wherever finer materials and more advanced design could add to Chevrolet quality, or increase Chevrolet's traditional economy of ownership—improvement has been made. See the new Chevrolet Six—for here is the Great American Value!

AT NEW LOW PRICES

Chevrolet has long been one of the lowest priced cars in the world. Yet due to the savings of volume production and increased manufacturing efficiency, the Bigger and Better

Chevrolet is offered at new low prices. Come in today. See and drive the new Chevrolet Six. Learn the new economy of owning a modern, fine quality, six-cylinder automobile.

CITY ECHOES.

George R. Rea attended the regular monthly meeting of the Gulf Coast Underwriters' Association Monday night, which was held in Gulfport.

Mr. and Mrs. John Osoinach returned home Tuesday evening by auto from New Orleans, where they spent several days visiting relatives and friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Alvin P. Smith, recent purchasers of the Markay mansion on the beach front, are preparing the premises for their early occupancy, following slight renovation.

C. O. Underwood, resident of Piquette and representative for the New York Life Insurance Company, visited the Bay City Rotary fellows Wednesday noon, with his friend, C. W. Weston.

Dr. James A. Evans spent Sunday in New Orleans visiting his mother who has been quite ill but is reported much improved. Friends share in the concern for the early and rapid recovery of the patient.

Mrs. Helen Mullen of Chicago, is visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhodes on Sycamore street. After her visit here, and before returning to Chicago she will spend a few days with friends in New Orleans.

Albert De Ben, representing King Edward cigars, left Saturday morning for a business stay at Alexandria, La., where he is registered at the Bentley. King Edward sale is one million a day; De Ben says he wants to double the figure.

Mayor Charles Traub, Sr., who has been on the sick list for a week, was out Saturday for the first time and sat at his desk in the City Hall, and his return to his post was greeted with personal welcome and general satisfaction.

A. A. Scaffide, Hancock County Bank and Hancock County Insurance Agency, started his annual two-week vacation Saturday by attending the Tulane-Georgia football game at New Orleans on that day and plans to spend part of his time visiting at Sidel, La.

Mr. John Osoinach, who has been on the sick list for a while and is better, after quite a siege of unusual illness, was quite surprising to his friends that he is still a fall victim to one of the million ills to which the flesh is heir.

Bro. Peter, president St. Stanislaus College, continues to gradually improve from the recent surgical operation he underwent and is again thriving under the heavy pressure of work. His well-known capacity and spirit for work seem to thrive under stress and pressure.

H. C. Hormeyer, connected with the Hibernia Bank & Trust Company at New Orleans, spent Monday in Bay St. Louis in connection with the recent purchase of Pine Hills, which was purchased in his name. He said his visit here was official and he was "checking up" on his purchase.

W. H. Slinger, local upholsterer and tapestry worker, has an ad in this issue of The Echo, offering a Christmas suggestion. Mr. Slinger has moved to his new location and is now on the Beach in the new Polatsk building. Orders for Xmas work now solicited and special attention promised.

Mr. Winfield Partridge is planning to reconstruct his dwelling, recently destroyed by fire and expects to build in the immediate future. However, he will build on a different site, planning for a site adjoining a present dwelling house on the side street opposite where the home destroyed was located.

Mrs. Charles Degan and Mrs. E. J. Simon of New Orleans were Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. Stanford G. Beatty. Mrs. Degan returned home Sunday evening. Mrs. Simon, Mrs. Beatty's mother, left Monday morning for Biloxi where she spent the day visiting friends. She returned to her home in New Orleans on Monday night.

Work of hard-surfacing the grounds surrounding the local L. & N. depot is finished and Contractor W. D. Hays accomplished a most satisfactory job, it was so stated, by railroad heads in charge. It is quite an improvement and relieves the public of part of the bumpy roadway in that vicinity. The L. & N. has given Bay St. Louis another decided improvement.

Edw. Osborn, who has the contract for rebuilding and remodeling the second floor of the R. L. Engman dwelling in Bookkter avenue, did the work with such approval on the part of the owners, that he is now doing similar work on a site adjoining the beautiful home. Mr. and Mrs. Engman have planned well and wisely for a comfortable and spacious home and Contractor Osborn is executing their wishes and plans to complete satisfaction.

Judge Will T. McDonald was down from Memphis, Tenn., a few days ago and mingled with the many friends and acquaintances of the time when he resided here. The Judge came down purely on a friendly visit and, as he expresses it, is always glad to be back on the coast and in Bay St. Louis, where many of his best and happiest years were spent. And we can assure the Judge's friends are as glad to see him as he says he is to visit.

Dr. C. L. Forquharson and wife of Houston, Texas; Mrs. H. D. Brautwine, Wichita Falls, Kansas.

Miss A. Kinkelnburg, artist of St. Louis, Mo., spent several days sketching the lovely old trees on the Monticelli avenue. She is on her way to Fort Hope, Ala., Artist College to spend the winter.

Mr. Elder was a guest for a few days while attending business transactions in Bay St. Louis.

Dr. Nowell Dean of Pittsburgh, Pa., will be a guest for a few weeks, enjoying the fishing and other sports. Dr. Dean has recently toured Canada and the East.

PASS CHRISTIAN KEEN TO HIGHWAY CONFERENCE

BAY CITY, DECEMBER 2

Rotary Club Members and Guests Will Join in Bay Christmas Celebration—Pass To Have Annual Toy Distribution.

(Special Correspondence)

Pass Christian, Miss., Nov. 18.—Pass Christian Rotary Club, presided over by President H. L. Adams, local florist and nurseryman, held its usual weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Miramar today and several out-of-town visitors were noted, including Warren Jackson, of Ocean Springs, Club, and still an individual power for the coast; George E. Rea, president Merchants Bank and president Chamber of Commerce at Bay St. Louis; Chas. G. Moreau, Bay St. Louis publisher and president of the Rotary Club of that city, and Waldo Otis, lessee and manager of Hotel Weston, all Rotarians. Jim Berry, Gulfport Rotarian and well-known banker was also present.

O. S. T. HIGHWAY CONFERENCE DEC. 2.

George R. Rea announced there would be a public conference held at Bay St. Louis on the afternoon of Tuesday, December 2, and invited every Rotarian and other citizens to join in the meet, to which an affirmative response was voiced. Warren Jackson said he would work for the cause of attendance and interest of the project from his end of the coast. Judge E. J. Adams, Dr. A. R. Robertson, E. A. Lang and others were equally enthusiastic.

ACCEPTS ROTARY INVITATION TO BAY.

Chas. G. Moreau issued an invitation to the Pass Christian Club to have its members and Rotary Annas, as well as other guests to join the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club in its Christmas meet and celebration, which occasion would also be combined with the annual Ladies' Night. President Adams, following discussion, put it to vote of the club and which was carried with every manifestation of enthusiasm as only could come from a sister city and next door neighbor.

ANNUAL ROTARY DOLL FUND FOR PASS.

The annual doll and toy distribution, sponsored by the Pass Rotary Club will again be a local feature of the holidays for the fifth consecutive time, and "Pop" Smith, the patriarch of the club, was declared "it." That is, he was appointed the committee of one to solicit funds and be chairman of the committee in charge. He asked that the work be delegated to someone else this year and in reply the club appointed him to the task permanently year after year. He graciously accepted.

NEW ARRIVAL IN E. A. LANG FAMILY.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lang are rejoicing with them on the occasion of a new arrival at the Lang home, a son, which happy event dates since Friday morning. This is the fourth child and fourth son in the family. Mr. Lang says his girls are all boys with the exception of four who are also boys. May they follow the footsteps of their father and inherit all the goodness of their mother.

TURKEY FOR NEXT TUESDAY'S MEET.

It was revealed from some unnamed source to Pass Rotarians that the Miramar on Tuesday next, for the regular luncheon, would give a turkey menu, accompanied by the customary "fixing" 100 per cent attendance is in prospect.

Dr. A. R. Robertson was a business visitor to New Orleans Wednesday. Pass Christian property owners, particularly on the Beach, are setting the pace for winter grass lawns.

Benefit Card Party Scores Profit Despite the Evening's Bad Weather

Notwithstanding the inclement weather of Friday evening, there was a goodly attendance at the benefit card party given at Hotel Weston under auspices of the Women's Benevolent Association of Bay St. Louis.

This card party was one of a series of quite a number, to raise funds in order that as many delegates as possible may attend the annual convention to occur at Chicago next summer and was given by Mrs. F. J. Bopp, Misses Yvonne Tremoult, Irma Koch, Mary Scaffide and Lucille St. Amant. Misses Mariam and Levia Engman and other ladies assisted generously. A net amount of some twenty-five dollars was realized.

THE CIRCUIT COURT OF Copiah county is disposing of civil cases, mostly by compromise routes, but several jury trials have resulted in verdicts. H. I. Cotton, who operates a cafe at Hazlehurst was given a verdict of $1000 against the Mississippi Power and Light Company, the plaintiff alleging that the defendant company cut off his cafe lights some months ago. Cotton claimed that he agreed to pay a stipulated rate for electricity and that when he refused to pay a higher rate than agreed the company cut off his electric current.

Another judgment against the same company was rendered by a jury in favor of B. W. White, who claimed the light company cut off his residence lights when he failed to pay his bill. He said while he did not pay the bill he did have on deposit with the company more than enough to pay the light bill. He said he told the company's employees at the time to turn the electricity back on and take the amount of the bill from his deposit. They refused to do that.

The two cases are the first of their nature here and have been of great interest to all people using electric current in towns.

Each Inmate of Veterans Home To Get New Uniform

Each veteran at the Jefferson Davis home will receive a new tailor made Confederate grey all-wool uniform, to be purchased with money bequeathed to the Beavoor home by the late G. B. Gerhart of Abbeville, N. C. He left the home $2,168.92. At a recent meeting of the board it was decided to expend the money for this purpose.

Supr. E. Tarr of Beavoor has addressed letters to doctors, hospitals and nurses in the state advising them that the home has accommodations for 100 more veterans, wives or widows.

AGED RESIDENT OF KILN PASSES AWAY EARLY TUESDAY A. M.

Mrs. Armatine Toquet, Age 77 years, Goes to Final Reward Rich in Virtues.

Mrs. Armatine Toquet, mother of our townsman, Sylvestre Toquet, passed away at her home, Kiln, this county, at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, from the infirmities of advanced years.

Mrs. Toquet was a native of this county, born in the Kiln vicinity 77 years ago and with her death there passed away one who had spent her life in the practice of noble deeds that endeared her to all with whom she came in contact.

This was well attested to by the many friends and acquaintances who attended the last obsequies, and many journeyed from Bay St. Louis to pay their last respects. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, ceremonies conducted by Rev. Father Dennis, pastor at the Kiln, and Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey of Bay St. Louis. Interment was at Bayou Coco Cemetery, at Kiln. Many floral tributes marked the last resting place.

Mrs. Toquet is survived by a daughter, Miss Naomi Toquet, and one son, Sylvestre Toquet, of this city, and a number of grandchildren. Their loss is keen and friends sympathize with them in the hour when the shadow of the dark angel has fallen across home and hearts.

Mrs. M. D. Ladner of Waveland Passes Away After Long Illness

Mrs. Muriel Delores Ladner, nee Dula, wife of Ollus Ladner, of Waveland, passed away at her home that place on Wednesday morning of last week and was buried from the late residence Thursday afternoon, 4 o'clock, with interment at Waveland cemetery.

Mrs. Ladner was a native of New Orleans, and was 62 years of age at the time of her death, and had been a resident of Waveland for the greater part of her life. She was associated with every force for the moral uplift and worker in the field for church, school and home. Mrs. Ladner had been in failing health for a long time, and even with this knowledge the news of her death was a shock to her many friends and acquaintances as her condition did not indicate the end was near.

Actively associated with church work and identified with many moral and social activities her contact was general and she had a wide circle of acquaintances. The funeral was largely attended and as an additional testimony of the esteem in which she was held it was noted that the number of floral tributes were unusual, both in number and in arrangement.

Mississippi Power Company Loses Court Case In Matter of Cutting Current

CAFE OPERATOR GETS $1000 VERDICT WHEN LIGHTS ARE CUT OFF.

Western Union Worker Severely Cuts Foot While At Work On Line

B. M. Maples, residing with wife and baby at 118 Carroll avenue, is recovering from a severe accident which happened when he cut his foot to the extent he had to be taken to the King's Daughters hospital and three stitches were necessary, and ten days at home before being able to resume his work. Mr. Maples recently moved here from Georgia and is employed with the construction force rebuilding the Western Union lines from Mobile to New Orleans, paralleling the Louisville & Nashville tracks.

Pastor of First Methodist Church Returned to Bay City For Third Year

Rev. C. C. Clark, pastor First Methodist church, Bay St. Louis, was reassigned to the pastorate of the local church at Vicksburg at the State conference, when assignments for the coming year were announced. This will be Dr. Clark's third year in this city and the news of his appointment is received with a general acclaim of satisfaction to one and all alike, regardless of affiliation. Personally he has endeared himself to all and he makes for the ideal type of citizenship.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burns, (Mrs. Burns formerly Mrs. Gaston G. Gardebled and a resident of Bay St. Louis) formally announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Eula Gardebled, to Michael J. Lucia, at the Sacred Heart church at New Orleans, November 26, 1930, at 9:30 a. m., at nuptial mass. Friends and acquaintances are invited through this medium.

Miss Eula Gardebled is one of the younger daughters of Mrs. Gardebled and the announcement will be read with interest and local information.
